Why Choose reUp?

For more information about reUp offerings please visit <https://www.innio.com/en/services/waukesha/remanufactured-parts-reup>

- OEM Engineering Reman Specifications: Remanufactured part specs are determined by Waukesha Engineering using the same design methodology and validation process used for new unit design. Validation includes detailed modeling, finite element analysis, materials lab testing, or on-engine testing.
- Quality and Reliability: All reUp parts are remanufactured in production environments with supporting quality systems. Parts, short/long block, and engine assembly is completed by trained personnel with the same equipment, processes, and tools used to build new units.
- Best Technology: Design improvements made by Waukesha Engineering to parts and engines are implemented into the reUp Program.
- Component Fallout: Core credit is determined based on visual inspection of core. No added fees are applied if components fall out later in the reman process.
- Logistics: The reUp web portal is used to track core eligibility & core return transportation is paid by Waukesha for channel partners in the US & Canada.
- Warranty: The Waukesha Extended Limited Warranty applies and is available: One year from date of service or two years from sale.

The reUp Program is an exchange program (rather than repair and return). In an exchange reman program the finished reman good arrives at the channel location and is exchanged for core which is returned to Waukesha. All reUp components are remanufactured to OEM specifications.

Core Crediting

reUp program engine, short & long blocks, and components are invoiced with core charges. Core is defined as repairable used engines or components. These charges appear as sales order lines with COR- or CHG- prefixes. Core credit charges are invoiced at the time of order shipment and are subject to the buyer's negotiated payment terms. Core charges are processed as credit memos after core parts have been returned using the reUp core return process. The reUp core return process is administered via the reUp website which can be accessed from the INNIO Customer Portal (<https://customer.innio.com/en/customer/applications>). If the specified core parts are not received by Waukesha within one (1) year of the shipment of the corresponding product, the core return eligibility expires. There are no exceptions to the one (1) year eligibility period. Core parts returned outside the reUp core return process will not qualify for core credit reimbursement, and the credit will have been deemed to have expired.

Core Criteria

reUp core criteria is published on the reUp website which can be accessed from the INNIO Customer Portal. Core deductions are based on a visual inspection of the core. Any core fallout in the downstream remanufacturing process is not deducted from the core charge.
